Sayreville Coach Sacked

By Steve Schmid

When the Sayreville Bomber football team kicks off its 2015 season this fall, there will be a new leader on the sideline. Head coach George Najjar's long tenure will be in the rearview mirror. The Sayreville Board of Education posted Najjar's job February 5 on the district website seeking job applications for the vacant position. Sayreville School Superintendent Richard Labbe said they are excited to launch a comprehensive search to find the next leader of the football team. Najjar's status has been in question since the football team was rocked by a hazing scandal last October which forced the cancellation of the 2014 season. Seven members of the varsity team have been charged with sexual violations of four teammates in the school locker room. Najjar remains suspended with pay from his coaching and physical education duties. This has been a stunning change of fortune for Najjar who led the Bombers to 20 consecutive state playoff appearances including four sectional state championships. He was inducted into the New Jersey Coaches Association Hall of Fame in 2014. Najjar finished with a 165-54 record during 20 seasons at Sayreville including a 21-13 postseason record.

Reilly Named To Council

Tom Reilly was recently named the new Second Ward Councilman. Reilly fills the spot vacated by Joseph Connors, who served as Council President, and resigned on December 31st. Best of luck, Tom!

C-Town Will Reopen Again

By Tom Burkard

The good news is that South Amboy's convenient food store, C-Town will open again, hopefully in the not too distant future. The C-Town closing since the fire on Jan. 6th, has been tough, not only on the locals, who depend on the store for nearby shopping, but also on the many workers, whose livelihoods depend on it. Owner Nasser Nasser said that the fire started in the old section of the building in the attic, and he praised firefighters, "I want to thank the Fire Dept. for saving the building," he said.

Nasser also said that, "We're working hard with the town to get the store reopened, and I'd like to thank Council President Mickey Gross and Mayor Fred Henry for all of their help. I also want to thank the employees for all of their assistance, and hope to get them back to work real soon. We're there for the town, and we hope that it will come back and support the store."

The South Amboy St. Patrick's Day Parade, which is believed to be the second largest in all of New Jersey, will be held on Saturday, March 7th starting 2 p.m. at the corner of South Pine Ave. and Bordentown Ave. The parade will then proceed down

Bordentown Ave., take a left onto South Stevens Ave., make a right on Main St., another right onto North Broadway, and proceed to the reviewing stand on Broadway. The parade should be a spectacular event once again, so try not to miss it!

Jack Hulsart Remembered

By Tom Burkard

Former South Amboy Councilman and Recreation Director John "Jack" Hulsart, 81 of South Amboy died on Jan. 28. Jack was a top-notch organizer, who ran an outstanding recreation program in South Amboy for many years, always putting his heart and soul into it, and making it one of the best rec programs around for children and adults.

Before his retirement, he worked many years at E.I. DuPont & Co. in Parlin as a machinist. Jack was a Board of Education member, and went on to become a Councilman for the City of South Amboy from 1986-1991. In addition, he was a very active member with the Morgan Lions Club, and MAVIS (Music Appreciation for the Visually Impaired), Sayreville.

South Amboy Mayor Fred Henry recalled that, "Jack gave me my first position on the Recreation Dept., overseeing the South Amboy Babe Ruth League. He was an all-around nice guy. I remember him refereeing in the Touch Football League, and on a controversial play, he said, 'that's a do-over,' which was something you would hear in sandlot games."

Jack Hulsart

School Bus Advertising for Sayreville

By Steve Schmid

Rising operational costs have caused Sayreville school officials to consider selling advertising space on school buses. School Superintendent Richard Labbe believes several new methods of generating revenue could bring in a much as $1 million in new funds for the district. The proposal calls for the district to develop a plan to sell advertising space to hospitals, universities, and other vendors. Labbe said inflation, rising personnel, and healthcare costs make it necessary for Sayreville to find new revenue streams. Talks about the new revenue programs are in the preliminary stage.

Pasta Dinner Helps SA Fire Victims

By Steve Schmid

The South Amboy community generously turned out for a charity pasta dinner January 30 at the South Amboy Knights of Columbus. They wished to help Dawn and Norman Slingerland whose South Feltus St. home was destroyed by fire June 26. The affair was organized by the South Amboy Columbiettes in cooperation with the Knights of Columbus who donated the hall and kitchen facilities. Columbiettes Maria Markisello and Dawn Matthews were co-chairpersons. They spent two weeks planning the menu, cooking food, and canvassing local businesses for donations. Markisello said she's proud of how the Columbiettes joined forces to work the event. "It's a fantastic thing that we accomplished. I really feel great about it." She said 145 dinners were served and over $2,200 was raised for the fire victims.

Markisello added she couldn't have accomplished this without the enthusiastic help of Matthews who worked in the kitchen, organized volunteer workers, and sought donations from area businesses. "The goal was to raise as much money as possible and bring everyone together to see what the Columbiettes can do for the community," Markisello said. She wished to thank the local business community for their generous donations and also thanked the musical group "FOG" for performing during the dinner. South Amboy Knights of Columbus Council 426 Grand Knight Ken Smetana presented a donation to Dawn Slingerland on behalf of the officers and members. "I am humbled to be able to offer a check to the family. I was overjoyed at the great community outreach," Smetana said.

A WALK DOWN THE AISLE

By Elaine Holton Scott

30.6, 29.3, 28, 22, 33.9, 11.3, 10.3, 29.2, 27.8, 22.6, 31, 11.5, 25, 34.5, 31.5...ounces, all of those numbers were weight contents I recently saw listed on cans and plastic containers of coffee at the grocery store. Add in all the varieties of ground and whole bean coffees sold in bags and the selections seem endless. Now, why do you think there are multitudes of different weight sizes and packaging available in so many, many grocery items? In my opinion, it's just another marketing strategy used to confuse the consumer.

Remember when easy-to-make side dishes had "makes 4 servings" on their packaging? Through the years, those very same side dishes somehow started to "lose weight" and did so without a word to us, the consumer. The "San Francisco treat" is a good example. Once upon a time when there was only a "selection of one" and that box had contained 8 ounces, a large frying pan would get filled when making it. Today, what's cooked looks anorexic.

Health foods have become the biggest money makers for manufacturers, as any product which mentions "health" on the packaging cost more than those which don't. This "eat healthy" trend, though, had a tough time getting started. Way back in the 1970's, Post Foods had hired Euell Gibbons, a self-proclaimed naturalist, as its spokesperson for Grape Nuts cereal. "It tastes like wild hickory nuts," he used to say, somehow making that seem like a good thing. When Euell Gibbons dropped dead at the age of 64 in 1975, eating "healthy" quickly lost its attraction for a few decades.

Post Foods hadn't been the only company using "health" as a way of selling their product. Between 1973 and 1978, Dannon Yogurt had commercials showing super elderly people in what was then Soviet Georgia...a place where it seemed everyone was at least a century old. Aware of possible lawsuits for making any false claims, the commercial only "hinted" that eating yogurt just might make you live longer. Unfortunately for Dannon, the sight of those awful looking people was a big turn off, and many years would have to pass by before yogurt became "mainstream." At the end of the 1960s, I remember yogurt being thick and creamy, and sold in 8-ounce, waxed cardboard paper containers for about 12cents each. That was cheap even then. Since the supply and demand had been so small, yogurt had taken only a minimal amount of space on store shelves. Times change. Yogurt has become an accepted "healthy" food, and it'll soon need an entire store for all the ridiculous amount of brands and varieties currently being sold. Of course, yogurt, now sold in impossibly hard to disintegrate plastic containers, has reduced weight contents...and none of it is "cheap."

"Organic" has become the pricey "in" item of the times, even when suspicion is cast as to how "organic" the food is (e.g. lollipops?? stuffing mix??) Ah, but "organic" is for another walk down the aisle.

The Smoke Column

By Ex-Chief Richard Kosmoski

Fire Departments throughout the world must be prepared at all times for any emergency situation that can occur at a moment's notice. It can no longer be said that fire fighters only fight fires because emergencies vary from all types of unique situations and these can be some of the most dangerous and deadly scenarios in which to perform rescue work.

The impressions that most people had of the fire departments during the mid-1900's was that when there was a fire, you called the fire department, fire fighters responded and put the fire out. End of story!

But in today's modern society, various types of rescues can become a daily occurrence.

Many of these rescue calls are the result of motor vehicle crashes but there are many other rescue emergencies that happen infrequently and require specialized trained personnel. These are the type of emergency calls that first responders must be proficient in because they occur so infrequently. Some of these specialized rescue teams that are provided by the fire service include: High Angle Rescue; Trench Rescue; Confined Space Rescue; Swift Water Rescue; Ice Rescue; Building Collapse; and Motor Vehicle Extrication.

The Borough of Sayreville has had a multitude of flooding emergencies occur over the last 50+ years that required emergency responders to perform heroic rescues in an effort to save lives. In all of these instances, emergency response planning, proper equipment, and rescue tactics were necessary for a safe outcome. But can we guarantee the same results in the future? Severe storms cause residents to be trapped in their homes and in need of immediate rescue which was the case most recently during Super Storm Sandy.

As a result of the storms in recent years and in pre-planning for the future, the Sayreville Fire Department has developed a specialized Water Rescue Unit that is being trained and qualified to respond to most types of ice and water rescue emergencies.

In order to be a member of one of these rescue units and perform rescue duties, a person must be highly skilled in the techniques necessary to perform various types of rescues otherwise the rescuer can become the victim. During Hurricane Sandy, many of the borough residents had to be rescued from their homes or their stranded vehicles by boats. The fire fighters performed heroically in those instances with the equipment and tools they had at their disposal.

Today, three of the borough fire companies have rescue boats which are transported to the scene of an incident in a trailer that is stocked with supplies and equipment to perform rescues. The boats that are used for water rescue are called Zodiac boats, have a gasoline outboard motor attached, and are similar to those used by the Navy SEALs. They are constructed of a heavy duty rubber material and remain inflated at all times during storage because during a water rescue emergency time is of the essence. These boats are ready to respond at a moment's notice. One fire company also has a fully equipped metal rescue boat that is transported to the scene and then launched at a boat ramp.

Not only must we be concerned about rescuing the victim from drowning but we must consider the possibility of hypothermia that comes into play when the water is cold and is directly related to the length of time someone is in these waters. Survivability is based on the temperature of the water and the length of time in that water. As the water temperature decreases so does the survival rate of the victim.

The Sayreville Fire Department rescue boats were purchased through the municipal budget.

Constant training is required to keep these rescue skills sharpened and the techniques up to date. Water rescues may not occur often but when they do, they must be performed quickly if the intent is to save someone's life. The difference between life and death in a water emergency can be measured in seconds.

All boat operators must have successfully completed the U.S. Coast Guard Boater Safety Course.

Those rescuers that actually enter the water or ice must have additional advanced training with state certification.

Currently there are approximately 60 personnel who are in the process of being certified.

In Memoriam

Rita Marie Hellmuth O'Connor was born, in a house that still stands in the Melrose section of Sayreville, to Pauline Miller and Roy Hellmuth on May 26th, 1921. She passed away on a cold, snow-laden Saturday morning one year ago, February 15, 2014, at Perth Amboy Hospital, about a mile from where, 69 years previous, she had celebrated her wedding to Edward Jerome O'Connor.

The couple were truly 'Kindred Spirits', as described in the old Irish song, and managed to raise all of their nine children with an equal measure of love and devotion.

Our mother was a quiet, but wise and insightful woman with a ready sense of humor. She was fond of the flowers in front of the family house in Sayreville's Morgan section and especially looked forward to the re-emergence of the 'snow drops', small blossoms which would poke their heads out of the soil as winter waned and its snows retreated. She was fond of reminiscing of how beautiful the south shore of the Raritan River estuary was before the coming of the National Lead factory.

She had an appreciation for United States history and is probably one of the few women in New Jersey who has visited the grave, on the Wind River Indian reservation in Wyoming, of Sacajewea, the famed female saviour of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Her favorite pastimes were her Word Search and crossword puzzles (she could finish the New York Times Sunday crossword in record time) and playing the piano, which latter skill she learned as a girl by tenaciously persuing lessons given by Sister Mary Inez, among others, at St.Mary's Sisters of Mercy convent in South Amboy. She loved music-- anything from Gilbert and Sullivan (H.M.S. Pinafore was her favorite) to Tony Bennett.

One particular song that she liked was Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal's "I'll Be Seeing You", especially the heart-felt rendition by Jimmy Durante. This song concludes with the following verse, and this is the way that we are inclined to remember her:

"I'll be seeing you
In every lovely summer's day
In everything that's light and gay
I'll always think of you that way.
I'll find you in the morning sun
And when the night is new,
I'll be looking at the moon,
But I'll be seeing you."

Cardinal McCarrick/ St. Mary's HS students win Essay Contest!
The Diocese of Metuchen invited students in grades 9 through 12 to submit an essay on how they have witnessed their Catholic Schools acting as communities of faith, service, or knowledge, resulting in doing the public good. Several students from Cardinal McCarrick HS submitted essays. The two students whose essays were selected are Joey Martinez, grade 9, and Joyce Loda, grade 10. These two students had the honor of their essays being displayed at the New Jersey State House and were invited to attend a ceremony and luncheon in honor of Catholic Schools Week on January 29, 2015. The entire Cardinal McCarrick HS community is very proud of Joey and Joyce!

January Winners

Many of our loyal SA Times readers started the New Year off by correctly identifying last month's "Mystery Photo" as Mochen's Candy Store or Mochen's Grocery Store, located on the corner of MacArthur Ave. and Canal St. in Sayreville. At one time, it was also known as Frank's Grocery Store, and the establishment was known by some locals as Dorothy Solinski's Grocery Store.

Incorrect answers were the Saltwater Anglers Store on Washington Rd., and also Repka's.

The Wearing Of The Green

By Al Gomolka Jr.
Times Poet Laureate
c.1995

Green is my favorite color
But that's not why I wear
Parties and jollies on March 17th
But that's not why I care
Corned beef, cabbage, potatoes
And beer
Still not the reason why I
Join the cheer-
I'm not even Irish, nor pretend to be,
Though there's a spirit alive,
Goodwill is the key-
That a saint from one nation,
A hero he be,
Is honored by many, and quite openly-
With parades, shamrocks, and music
That smiles,
For one day forgetting
O! Ireland's trials-
To share these festivities,
Come let it be seen,
Commemorate, celebrate,
By wearing the green.

The Deli, Dorothy Solinski

Two of the "Mystery Photos" over the last few months were shots of former Sayreville businesses. In the 1982 Borough of Sayreville Business Directory, we recently found that the name for the one located at 494 Washington Rd., in Parlin was The Deli, as several readers had identified it. The other photo in our Jan. 2015 issue was the building at 209 MacArthur Ave. in Sayreville, and was listed in the Directory as Dorothy Solinski, which one reader knew.

St. Patrick's Day Parade

It's that time of the year
It's finally here
It's that time of the year
For Irish happiness
And lots of cheer
It's partying time
For drinking green beer
The St. Patrick's Day Parade
Is finally here
Bringing lots of joy and fun
And corned beef and cabbage
For everyone
The color of green is everywhere
And bag pipers Irish music
Fills the air
It's that time of the year
The St. Patrick's Parade
Is finally here!

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me, herein you are my mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! Tom,
How could you forget? The great 1968-69 St. Mary's team swept CBA in two games. My brother George and I had 18 points apiece in the win down in Lincroft, while Jimmy McCloud and Mark Bratus led the team in the home win. I also see Vinnie Cox, the ex-great CBA coach from time to time, who never fails to mention how St. Mary's took out a very good CBA team twice that year. He says it with great respect for how good a club we had back in the day.

Ted Krzyzanowski
(Formerly of South Amboy)

Tom,

If memory serves me correctly, I believe the last time St. Mary's defeated CBA was in the opening game of the 1968-69 season. Don Coveleski was head coach, and that team was led by Jim McCloud and Mark Bratus, along with George Krzyzanowski, Ted Krzyzanowski, Bob Howarth and Nick Charmello. The game was played at CBA, and St. Mary's had a very large group of fans attending the game. I don't remember the score, but what stands out to me, is that as a JV player that year, I recall at the end of the game, one of the CBA players, being so frustrated by losing to St. Mary's, that he punched his hand through a locker room door window.

My name is Michael McCabe I am a resident of South Amboy and an Iraqi War Vet. I am doing a fundraiser to support

Operation Supply Drop. Operation Supply Drop is an organization that sends care packages to deployed troops, wounded warriors, and veterans suffering from PTSD. During my deployment to Iraq in 2010, there was not much to do except workout. Operation Supply Drop sends care packages filled with entertainment, televisions, Play Station 4's, Xbox's, and video games along with other electronic devices. This fundraiser will be going until May 16, 2015. Right now I have a personal goal to raise $5,000 dollars. I'm hoping to reach and exceed that goal but I cannot do that without your help. If you would like to make a donation please contact me via email michael.j.mccabe6@gmail.com and I will send you the link for the fundraiser. You can also stop by the South Stevens Pub at 200 Stevens Avenue, South Amboy, NJ and utilize the donation bin. There will be more donation bins around town as I get permission from local business owners. Any questions or concerns or if you would like to have a donation bin in your business please email me. Thank You

Sincerely,

Thank You

The Friends of South Amboy would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all of the volunteers who made the recent Cardinal McCarrick vs South Amboy charity basketball game such a great success. A special thank you to the South Amboy Police, Fire and First Aid squads for all of the your time spent making the event safe for everyone. Thank you also to Tom Burkard and his staff at the South Amboy-Sayreville Times, sponsors of our ad book, tricky tray, snack bar and team pre-game dinner. This wonderful event raised $13,000 for needy families and scholarships at each school. We can't thank you enough.

Pappas Named Sailor Of The Year

Two sailors from Marine Barracks Washington, D.C., were recently named the Senior Sailor of the Year and Junior Sailor of the Year for the National Capital Region by the U.S. Navy.

Sailor of the Year is an award given to sailors, who on a continual basis, perform at a superior level and uphold the highest traditions of naval service.

Petty Officer 1st Class Sergio Rivassorto, a religious program specialist, and Petty Officer 2nd Class Michael Pappas, a hospital corpsman, were selected from the various naval commands throughout the region.

The two were chosen based on leadership, job performance, educational accomplishments and professional development. All applicants were also judged on their personal appearance, military bearing and answers to questions before a board of senior sailors.

Rivassorto in his role as an assistant to the chaplain is a fine example of what a religious program specialist should emulate, said Barracks Chaplain Lt. James Dewey. "He takes care of others and portrays the Barracks in a positive light."

Rivassorto, an El Salvador native, joined the Navy in 2002. He said mentorship was the key to his success on the board.

"I had a Petty Officer when I was a lower enlisted who mentored me, pushed me to be a better sailor, and guided me to success. I feel like I have a responsibility to continue that tradition of mentorship," he said.

Winning this board will help him when it comes time for promotion to chief petty officer, he said.

The Junior Sailor of the Year winner, Pappas, is affectionately known by Barracks Marines as "Doc." This is a term often used throughout the Marine Corps for hospital corpsmen attached to Marine units.

Pappas is the leading petty officer for the corpsmen attached to the Barracks. He has 4 other corpsmen below him and is responsible for assisting in the smooth daily operation of the Barracks' medical section.

Chief Petty Officer Peter Buck, his supervisor, said Pappas was the sailor he looks to when something needs to get done.

"Pappas does a stand up job," he said.

Pappas is native to South Amboy, N.J., and joined the Navy in 2008. The secret to his success is trust between his leaders, peers and subordinates he said.

"I wouldn't be where I am today if the Marines and sailors didn't have confidence in me," said Pappas.

By winning these boards, these two sailors have continued the tradition of excellence for which the Barracks is known. (Photo/story submitted)

Camp Middlesex Means Summer Fun for Kids; Open House Set for March 8

Twenty-three new programs have been added to Camp Middlesex for the summer of 2015. The camp, located on the Middlesex County College campus in Edison, is for kids 6 to 18 years old. It runs from June 29-August 21.

An open house, at which prospective campers and their parents can meet camp instructors, learn about all the programs and register, will be Sunday, March 8 from 1-4 p.m. in Crabiell Hall. A raffle will be held for a $100 gift certificate toward camp. Bring the kids to enjoy demonstrations and light refreshments.

Camp Middlesex is actually many special interest camps. Campers can pick their activity from a list of dozens, including theater, robotics, chess, magic, sports, video game creation, art, cooking, fashion, computers, and many more. Each session runs for one week, mornings or afternoons, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Most kids pick two camps for a full-day experience. There is also a pre-camp option starting at 7:30 a.m. and an after-camp program that runs until 6 p.m. to accommodate working parents.

Most programs are $175 per half-day camp.

"Parents love the variety of programs," said Elaine Berlin, the Camp Middlesex coordinator. "They tell me 'Who else offers theater, painting, sports, science and cooking, all in one place?' This is a great option for working parents who want their children to be doing something fun and fulfilling. It's affordable, and all our instructors are certified classroom teachers who care about each child. We have a full-time nurse should the need arise. Plus, the classrooms are air-conditioned and the campus is beautiful. It's a wonderful experience."

New programs include Code Breakers; Relays, Games and Races; Lego® WeDo Robotic Challenges; Minecraft Designers; Lego Friends and Crafts for Girls; Study Skills for Junior High School Students; Lego Architecture; Blogging for Beginners; Camp Zombie; Video Game Animation; Amusement Park Physics; Digital Storytellers; Blood, Guts and Bones – Discovering the Human Body; Painting with Watercolor; American Folklore and Song; Minecraft Modders; Drawing for Beginners; Soap Making and Bubbly Stuff; Bracelets, Bling and Beyond; Party in the USA; Animal Planet; Origami – The Art of Folded Paper; and App Adventures: The Next Level!

For a brochure that details all the camps, or for more information, call 732-906-2556 or visit www.middlesexcc.edu/camp.

Congratulations to Sacred Heart School students Lorenzo Perez, Madison Lopez, Kael Colon, Patrick Berry-Lozado, and Ryan Giermanski for being chosen to have their Catholic Schools Week poster displayed at the State House in Trenton. The students were asked to design a poster which identifies the spirit of the Catholic School Community and displays the good public works and deeds done in their communities by them, or their families, teachers, other students, neighbors, or friends. The project, Catholic Schools: Communities of Faith, Service and Knowledge Who Do the Public Good, was co-sponsored by the Diocese of Metuchen and the Archdiocese of Newark. (Photo/story submitted)

A Guy Named Kareem Abdul-Jabbar

By "Pistol" Pete McIntyre

I was at the annual Baker Street Irregulars (BSI) dinner at the Yale Club in New York City on Friday January 9th. This is an annual gathering of Sherlockians (Sherlock Holmes fans) from around the world. This year, we had attendees from Japan, Europe, Canada, and I think Australia, and of course from all over the U.S. The BSI dinner is a wonderful way for people to meet face to face after knowing each other only through articles and e-mails.

A few people had asked about a fellow named Kareem? I said if it's who I think it is I'll point him out to you. And it was! It turns out that Kareem Abdul-Jabbar has been a Sherlockian for over 40 years. He first started to read the stories during his rookie year in the NBA, and he was fascinated by the way Sherlock Holmes was able to identify and use clues that no one else saw. He is working on a biography of Mycroft

Holmes, Sherlock's older brother.

When he was free, I walked over to Kareem and told him that during the 70's and 80's, I had been a season ticket holder for the Philadelphia 76ers, and I enjoyed booing him every chance I got. He paused and said, "those were exciting years," and he was right. I asked if he still plays basketball, and he said, "No, I can't run the floor anymore." I lamented that I am relegated to shooting drills as my knees were also shot. Having played with guys close to 7 foot, I was still surprised at how tall Kareem was. When talking to him, I knew he was tall, but the photo still surprises me at HOW tall he is compared to me.

Kareem said he was glad to be at the BSI dinner. He seemed to enjoy himself, and hopefully, when his book is published, he will return next year.

Recycling Coordinator Creates Unique Design For 2015 Guide

By Clem Skarzynski

Sayreville's Recycling Coordinator, Elyse Barone, CRP, had her "Aha" moment while visiting the Boro's Historical Society. Among the pictures was a photo from 1944, depicting students from the Lincoln School, participating in a Recycling Paper Drive.

Upon further research, Boro Historian Jason J. Slesinski, provided Elyse with the picture she used for her uniquely designed cover for the Boro's 2015 Recycling/Sanitation Guide. The guide's picture sub-titles is as follows, "Past, Present and Future: Sayreville's Recycling Roots Go Back More Than 70 Years." This really adds to the unique, original design of the guide. Great idea and finished product Elyse!

I was formerly a Boro employee in the late 60's through early 70's, and I remember participating in the monthly Saturday Boro wide paper drives, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Sayreville, but never realized recycling took place years prior!

Elyse, again great job! Jason Slesinski, thanks for the history and picture, and also a big thank you to the Sayreville Historical Society. Also, if any of our readers out there know the identities of anyone in the picture or have pictures of other recycling events, past, that occurred in the Boro, please send to: recycling@sayreville.com or call 732-727-0398.

Heed Your Calling - Discovering Your True Purpose

Have you ever thought about what are you called to do with your skills and gifts? Mark Twain once said, "The two most important days in your life are the day you were born and the day you find out why." This is your true purpose. There is some work that each of us was born to do. It was planted in us before we were born. It's our calling...our reason for being here. Our mission in life is to find it and pursue it.

In this talk, Terrence Seamon will guide you through a series of exercises that will lead you in the direction of greater clarity around your calling, your purpose, and the work you were meant to do. With this insight, you will be able to design your own personally branded value proposition. Join us for this presentation at Sayreville Public Library on Tuesday, March 3 from 6:30 to 8:00PM.

Don't miss this evening where you can expand your network, make new friends, share knowledge with your peers, and hear highly relevant and beneficial insights and perspectives from experts in the marketplace. Please note that at 6PM, the room will be open to invite guests to network, followed by Terrence's talk beginning at 6:30PM, and concluding with more networking and discussion from 7:30 to 8:00PM.

Ray "Butch" Tomaszewski, former Chairman of the South Amboy Democratic Party said that, "Jack was a great person to work with when I was the Chairman. He was very passionate with helping the people of South Amboy, no matter what party they were with."

John "Jack" Hulsart was a truly wonderful human being, who loved his family and friends. He always treated everyone kindly, while touching countless lives along the way in such a positive manner. Jack will never be forgotten for bringing enjoyment to so many through recreation, and all of the other good works he was involved in through the years. He was a friend to all, and loved by so many, as can be attested by the huge turnout that attended his viewing and funeral under the direction of The Gundrum Service "Home For Funerals." May God Bless John "Jack" Hulsart.

Bon Jovi Helps Community Kitchen

By Tom Burkard

Rock superstar, Jon Bon Jovi came to the aid of a community kitchen that closed last summer in Union Beach. Spoon Full of Hope, a program run by Gateway Church of Christ, Morganville closed last spring because of lack of business in the community that was devastated by Hurricane Sandy.

The Jon Bon Jovi Soul Foundation's community kitchen in Red Bank contacted the Spoon Full of Hope people in charge, and pledged their assistance and support to help the needy in the area. The community kitchen will be open Wednesdays at the Union Hose Fire Co. No. 1 building, 1224 Florence Ave., in Union Beach, with seatings at 5, 6, and 7 p.m. It will be similar to the JBJ Soul Kitchen in Red Bank, with no prices on the menu, and customers may pay a minimum donation of $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12, or volunteer an hour to receive a dining credit that will feed up to 4 family members plus the volunteer.

There are plans in the works for the JBJ Soul Kitchen to expand the concept with a kitchen in Toms River with local partners. Keep up the good work Jon!

Harry Chapin Helped Many

By Tom Burkard

Singer/Songwriter Harry Chapin led a very short life, dying on July 16, 1981 at 38 years old in a fiery crash on the Long Island Expressway in New York, of a heart attack. However, during his short time on earth, he was always there, lending his talents to help the needy, especially the hungry of the world, and started the World Hunger Tour in 1974, and ran it through 1976, raising a whopping $6 million for world charities.

On the day of his fatal accident, he was supposed to play a free concert in a park in New York City, as 30,000 people waited to hear the popular singer, who was famous for his 1974, #1 hit "Cats In The Cradle," "Taxi," and "Sequel" which was a follow-up to "Taxi."

Harry Chapin was a caring individual who really wanted to "make a difference." Though he was gone for many years, he was posthumously awarded the Congressional Gold Medal.

Eagles Streak Halted At 19

The incredible 19-game unbeaten streak by Coach Ben Gamble's Cardinal McCarrick/St. Mary's boys' basketball squad has ended, as the Eagles fell to Rutgers Prep, 54-46 in a Tri-State Hoopfest contest at Roselle Catholic. The 19-straight wins is believed to be a school record for most wins at the start of a season, and most consecutive victories. The Eagles who were unaccustomed to trailing in a game, were behind throughout most of the tilt, and were down 27-22 at the half. Gilberto Cue, a transfer from Bergin Catholic led the Blue & Gold with 18 points.

Previously, Cardinal McCarrick/St. Mary's had won their 19th game in a row by topping a scrappy Carteret club, 60-55. NyQuan McCombs led the attack with 23 points and got lots of help from Gilberto Cue with 16 and Elijah Mitchell 11 points. Junior guards, McCombs, and Cue, along with third starting guard Mitchell really trigger this lightning fast team. Handling the board work are Hodari Bazemore and Santiago Delvishaj. The Blue & Gold also features a strong bench consisting of guards Josh Green and Ralph Menard, and Bryan Harris, a Woodbridge transfer, who just became eligible, and has looked outstanding.

The 19 straight wins at the start of a basketball season is believed to be an all-time record for Cardinal McCarrick/St. Mary's.

*Note: At press time the Eagles were shocked by Sayreville, 49-46 in GMCT play, giving them their second loss in a row.

Favorite College Sports Memories

Fred Henry (St. Mary's) pitched for 2 years at Middlesex County College (MCC), and went on to hurl another 2 years at Trenton State College in the late 1960's, early 70's. He proudly recalled his first start at MCC. "I started against Staten Island, the #3 ranked team in the nation, and pitched a 2-hitter against them." While at MCC, he was a teammate of Bob Rodziewicz, who starred in high school for Sayreville. In the first game Henry, (who is the current Mayor of South Amboy), said that, "I struck out the first 3 batters that I saw."

Rick Ragula (St. Mary's) recalled that "I was on a scholarship and played for Illinois Tech from 1968-71, and started most games at center during those years (it was called pivot in those days). We were pretty successful in converting a losing program into the best they had in 10 years. We played mostly small Midwestern colleges, but there was a lot of talent there. I was frequently going up against guys a half foot taller and 50 pounds heavier, so I had to rely on quickness to compete."

Joe Noble (St. Mary's) pitched for the Belmont Abbey College Crusaders from 1968-69, and finished his collegiate career with a fine (3-1) record. Joe vividly recalled his college days, saying "I had a wonderful experience under Coach Ted Crunkleton. I made the team as a freshman pitcher and appeared in about a dozen games. One was as a starter against Pfeiffer University (no decision). Besides probably being in the best physical shape of my life, my 2 most memorable stories were: 1. Coming in as a relief pitcher in the 8th inning against a powerful Florida State team, in a tie game, with the bases loaded and one out, and inducing a 1-2-3 double play ball. Then in the 9th inning against me, a guy by the name of Walt Sumner, drafted by the Cleveland Browns as a defensive back, got a hit, stole second on the first pitch, stole third on the first pitch, and then with All-American Dick Gold up, I picked Sumner off third and got Gold to pop up. Unfortunately, we lost the game in the 10th inning, and I got no decision. 2. While warming up to come into a game against Baptist College, our backup catcher showed me how to throw a "slider." I entered the game around the 5th inning, and struck out 7 of 8 batters, and was the winning pitcher."

Gorczynski Scores 1,000th Point

Story Submitted

Olivia Gorczynski (Parlin, N.J.) picked a perfect time to have the best game of her career as Chestnut Hill College's senior captain poured in a career-high 31 points, the last two giving her an even 1,000 for her career, to headline an 81-49 Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC) rout of visiting Concordia College (NY) on Saturday afternoon. It was the second CACC Weekly Honor Roll mention for Gorczynski, who was recognized earlier for her play in a pair of season-opening contests against the Northeast-10's College of St. Rose and American International College (AIC).

Gorczynski canned a pair of free throws with 4:51 remaining in regulation to become just the seventh player in Chestnut Hill College (5-12, 3-7) women's basketball program history to reach the milestone. She reached the brink of the 1,000-point plateau with a flourish midway through the second half, sinking two free throws before burying triples on back-to-back possessions, the last putting the hosts ahead 72-37 with 8:21 to play and giving Gorczynski 998 career points. Singularly focused on reaching the milestone, the senior guard misfired on five straight shots before a strong drive forced a Clipper foul and sent her to the line. Gorczynski nailed the first, and with history hanging in the balance, swished the second for her 1,000th career point. With the home crowd in a frenzy, Head Coach Laura Pruitt called a timeout as the home crowd as Gorczynski received congratulations from her teammates, soaking in the climactic moment.

Three St. Mary's Grads Played For MCC

Ray Downs recalled playing for Middlesex County College (MCC) in 1971 & 1972. "Our coach was Joe Servon, who later went on to coach at Fordham University. I was very proud to make the team, especially since I did not make any of the great St. Mary's HS varsity teams. Gil Pritchard, Sonny Ostrowski, and I all came from St. Mary's Class of '70, and made the MCC varsity, and were a part of a bunch of young kids, playing at the Junior College level, and for me that was very special.

Gil was a great rebounder, being 6-2, and Sonny the same, both big guys with outstanding jump shots, and they could block a shot. I played small forward because I could jump, and had a pretty good outside jump shot, that Fran Fitzmorris taught me to shoot in CYO days, as well as how to shoot a foul shot. I also played CYO ball for St. Mary's, and we had outstanding teams. Back then, if you did not make the varsity squad, you could play CYO basketball and those CYO teams could have played on varsity level if given the opportunity. Basketball was very competitive at the time, with great coaches, and we won many games.

Back in the early 1970's, they had the Artis Gilmore and Ralph Sampson rule that you could not dunk. One time during warmups at MCC, Randy, our center (I forgot his last name) and I both dunked, and received a technical foul before the game even started. Coach Servon was not too happy at all. It was an honor playing at MCC, alongside Gil Pritchard and Sonny Ostrowski, and we even had Joe Brinamen in '72 as our assistant coach."

On A Sunday Afternoon

By Al Gomolka Jr.
 Times Poet Laureate
 c. 1994

There are moments when
 Our lives seem so hectic
 Never enough time for work or play
 Some others may feel sad, bored or lonely
 We beckon for a brighter, better day
 Rest or fun and peace come none to soon
 It seems on a Sunday afternoon
 To the bakery for jelly buns and rolls
 After church and Sunday papers
 Set the stage
 With loved ones or alone and anything goes
 A day to release from the week's cage
 Rest or fun and peace come none to soon
 It seems on a Sunday afternoon
 A stroll thru the park or a country car ride
 Beach, bowling, baseball, brunch along the way
 Couch potato, gardening, barbeque
 But taking it easy on the Lord's Day
 Rest or fun and peace come none to soon
 It seems on a Sunday afternoon.

Fishing Flashes

By Teo "Weebles" Weber
 Salt Water

It is the dead of winter. Fishing overall isn't much to write about and the cold deep freeze doesn't help. A few party boats that are fishing wrecks report a few Cod and not too many Ling. Other party boats that fish for Blackfish have caught a few, some go over 8 to 10 pounds or better, but there are just not enough to go around. A few do really well others not so well. The Mackerel run never got started. The new regulations for 2015 are not very good either. Striped Bass have been cut to one fish at 28 inches and the second fish must be over 40 inches. Sea Bass again took a hit as all coastal States in the Northeast have to reduce their overall catches by 33%. New Jersey was not able to get out of the Regionalized Plan, so Fluke will likely stay the same at 5 fish at 18 inches. The Bay opens up for Striper fishing on March 1st. Don't expect miracles!!

Fresh Water

There is finally enough safe ice on up-state lakes to ice fish. Some good spots are Bertrand's Island Cove, at Lake Hopatcong and Budd Lake. Some large Pickerel and good size Yellow Perch are being caught on shiner baited tip ups. Budd Lake also has Pike. The weather has been so cold that the Delaware River froze solid at the Water Gap and they were catching Walleyes through the ice. The hatchery has enough of trout on hand for opening day in April, but all will be Rainbows. There will be no Brown or Brook Trout due to the disease problems.

World War I Spies In South Amboy Part II

By Fran Fitzmorris

Before proceeding with the story of German spies in South Amboy during World War I, I will begin this article with an update on some of the information that was previously mentioned or suggested.

As stated in last month's article in The Times, the German government only admitted to one horrendous act of sabotage. This was the Black Tom explosion and Germany finally paid fifty million dollars in restitution in the early 1950's. There were, at least, eight other acts of terror in New Jersey and surrounding states between 1914 and 1917 that were never connected to the German government. However, most residents of New Jersey came to accept that the Germans were at fault. This belief came about because several German agents had been, supposedly, hired at other munitions plants. Guilt by association? Probably.

German agent, Ignatius Lincoln, was the most feared. He openly flaunted how easy it would be to blow up plants like Dupont and Hercules. His base of operation appeared to be New York City. He was hunted by the British Secret Service and the United States

Marshals who actually captured him in New York City. Before he could be turned over to the British, he somehow escaped. He was believed to have been in South Amboy twice. The first time was in 1915 and the second, supposedly, in February of 1916. It was wildly speculated that he actually stayed on John Street, across from the city hall to keep eyes on the police while he was there. Most of the town never knew about his stay. He left without doing anything overtly sinister. In his arrogance, he wrote a letter to the local paper as well as a New York paper. In the letter he writes, "I came not to destroy Dupont or Hercules but to remind all parties that it would have been easy to do this and not get caught." Obviously, he was making a point that he could have done the damage anytime he wished but, fortunately, it never happened. His parting words were, "I am not bluffing."

The fear of sabotage came to an end in 1917 when the United States entered the war and terror attacks became punishable by the death penalty.

Downs Writes Challenging Articles

(Story submitted)

Ray Downs has been in the elevator industry for the last 26 years, retired from United Technologies Corp., working under their Otis Division for 23 years, and now is Vice President of TEI Group-Dedicated Elevator Solutions, a direct competitor with all major elevator companies in the New York City market.

As part of his responsibilities, he is the VP of TEI that oversees all facets of the business under Environmental, Health, and Safety, and the Liason sitting on various Safety Committees to include the National Elevator Industry Inc., (NEII), and the National Association of Elevator Constructors (NAEC) representing all independent elevator companies around the country.

Ray wrote two articles, "So You Think

You Have A Safety Program," and "On The Same Page," that challenges the elevator industry to develop one set of industry safety standards for the entire country. Each article has its own subject matter, but nonetheless drives the same point across to the industry leaders.

The Vertical Transportation (Elevator) Industry is a trillion dollar industry with thousands of companies across the country employing hundreds of thousands around the globe. Ray has been very fortunate in his career to have traveled the world (Asia, Europe, China, South America and North America) representing his trade and hopes that he will close out his career in New York City. Congratulations Ray!

Old South Amboy Sewage Plant-If you grew up in South Amboy during the late 1920's until approximately 1988, you probably saw this equipment by Rosewell St., which was part of the old South Amboy sewage system. This system was replaced by the new modern and more efficient Middlesex County Utilities Authority (MCUA) sewage system around 1988. Valentine's Day is for Chocolate Lovers

Dark chocolate seems to lower blood pressure, but it requires an amount less than 2 Hershey Kisses to do it. A small study from Germany adds to mounting evidence linking dark chocolate with certain health benefits such as lowering blood pressure and having an anti inflammatory effect.

A study appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Dick Taubert of the University of Cologne. It demonstrated that blood pressure reductions with dark chocolate were small but still substantial enough to potentially reduce cardiovascular disease risks.

Volunteers for the study ate just over 6 grams of dark chocolate daily for almost 5 months. It equaled about 1 & 1/2 Hershey Kisses. People who ate that amount ended up with lower blood pressure reading that those who ate a similar amount of white chocolate. Tests suggested that a steady exposure to dark chocolate prompted a chemical change that helped dilate blood vessels and regulate blood pressure. Cocoa contains flavanols, plant based compounds that are also credited with giving red wine its heart healthy benefits.

Dr. Laura Sevetkey director of Duke University Hypertension center stresses that the study results should not be viewed as a license to gorge on chocolate. The weight gain from eating large amounts of dark chocolate would counteract any benefits.

As always an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. The combination of losing weight, eating less salt, exercising, and eating dark chocolate provides strategies to lower your blood pressure.

Nicole's Heart Sponsors Cardiac Screening at SJVHS

Eighty-seven students from St. John Vianney High School (SJV) participated in a cardiac screening at the Holmdel-based school on January 17, 2015. Nicole's Heart Foundation, a 501 (c) 3 nonprofit organization, sponsored the event. The screenings were cost-free to the students.

Nicole's Heart is named in honor of Nicole Trott of Old Bridge who graduated from SJV in 2011 and had been scheduled to start a pre-veterinarian science program at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, when she passed away following a sudden cardiac event on June 29, 2011. The eighteen-year-old had a previously undetected congenital heart defect.

Speaking on behalf of Nicole's Heart, Jerry Smith said, "Nicole had participated in gymnastics, cheerleading, and track during her high school years, but unfortunately even an individual who is as well conditioned as she was is not immune to such a tragedy."

In response to the loss of Nicole, her family, friends, coaches, and teammates banded together to form an organization to foster greater education and awareness about the importance of cardiac screening for high school athletes with the hope of averting a similar misfortune for someone else.

Five pediatric cardiologists and staff members from Alpert, Zales, and Castro Pediatric Cardiology, with offices in Brick and Red Bank, volunteered their services for the day.

Of the eighty-seven students who underwent an Electrocardiogram (EKG), nineteen met the criteria for follow-up.

"This was our second screening event at St. John Vianney High School, and the response has been tremendous. I sat alongside SJV Athletic Director Richard Lambertson for much of the day, and he's totally on-board with us bringing the whole operation right into the school building," Smith said. "And we really have to tip our hats to the medical staff for volunteering their time and expertise. Without them, this event could not have happened."

Nicole's Heart gratefully acknowledges the generosity of Dr. Mitchell Alpert; Dr. Vincent Zales; Dr. Elsa Castro; Dr. Marie Umali; Dr. Stephanie Chin, and Office Manager Sue Lesser, and all of the other technicians and staff members.

For more, please visit www.nicoles-heart.com.

Long, Long Ago

This vintage photo was believed to have been taken way back in the 1920's in the Melrose section of Sayreville on Laurel St., close to Ridgeway Ave. Pictured with their favorite car of the day is (l-r) John (no last name known), Bill (no last name known), and Arthur Harris. In background, from left: Middlesex President Joann La Perla-Morales; Kathryn Lamastra, Ocean County College basketball coach; Michel Powell, Middlesex's women's basketball coach. The fundraising effort raised over $400 for cancer research. The Middlesex women won the first contest 88-79 and the Middlesex men took the nightcap 98-80.

Pink Night

"Pink Night," a program in which the Middlesex County College and Ocean County College basketball teams supported Breast Cancer Awareness, was held at Middlesex on February 12. The men's and women's teams from both schools wore special warm-up t-shirts and members of the Middlesex softball and basketball squads held a bake sale and collected donations for cancer research. The program was part of "Pink Zone," a national effort to raise awareness and funds, organized by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association. Before the women's game, two-time cancer survivor Debbie Meade (Monmouth Junction) officiated at a ceremonial tipoff. She is the human resources manager at Home Depot, which donated giveaways and other supplies for the Pink Night Program. She is tossing the ball, and is flanked by Middlesex center

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
 (Never known to fail) Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me, herein you are my mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, show me herein you are my mother. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. You must publish it and it will be granted to you. Thank you. -A.O.J.

Donna Douglas, Joe Franklin and Lesley Gore Die

Three renowned celebrities from long ago, Donna Douglas, Joe Franklin, and Lesley Gore died recently. Donna Douglas was well-known for her role as Elly Mae Clampett on the popular "The Beverly Hillbillies" TV show in the 1960's. She also tried her hand at singing, and recorded some songs, mostly gospel. You can hear one of her songs, which she recorded in '63, "He's So Near," on youtube.com. by going to Donna Douglas, He's So Near.

Joe Franklin, 88, who died on Jan. 24, had a late night TV show "The Joe Franklin Show" that aired from 1962-1993 on Channel 9 (WOR-TV). He is credited with starting the desk and couch talk show format.

Franklin had over 300,000 guests through the years, and many were or became household names including Bing Crosby, Woody Allen, Marilyn Monroe. He also helped promote local bands such as The Smithereens and The Ramones.

Lesley Gore, who was one of the top female vocalists of the 1960's, died on Feb. 16 at 68 years old. She had 11 Top 40 Hits from 1963-1967, and her biggest all-time was the #1 song, "It's My Party," which topped the charts in 1963. Other well-know hits were, "You Don't Own Me," which made it to #2, "Judy's Turn To Cry," and "She's A Fool."

Old Man Winter Strikes Hard

By Steve Schmid

The winter of 2014-15 got off to a slow start in December and early January, but that changed early Sunday morning January 18. A 30 day stretch of cold weather and frequent winter storms followed. Freezing rain that morning caused over 400 accidents in New Jersey and forced the closure of the southbound lanes of the Garden State Parkway's Driscoll Bridge connecting Perth Amboy with Sayreville. Residents heading to Sunday church services were hampered by slippery roads and steps and some people fell on the slick surfaces. The biggest storm of the season so far occurred Monday January 26 when 9 inches of snow fell. Our area escaped the worst of the storm which slammed eastern Long Island and New England with over two feet of snow. Original forecasts called for blizzard warnings and 18 to 24 inches of snow which caused Governor Christie to issue a state of emergency. NJ Transit rail and bus service was suspended. Schools and businesses closed early and there were widespread closures the next day. Raritan Bay Waterfront Park closed that afternoon and reopened Thursday afternoon January 29. Another storm hit the evening of Super Bowl Sunday February 1 with light snow changing to a wintry mix. Most schools were closed the next day due to icy roads caused by freezing rain. Another winter storm with freezing rain struck February 9 creating more slippery streets. Icy conditions that night on the New Jersey Turnpike are blamed for a 40 vehicle crash in the southbound lanes by exit 8 in Cranbury. One man was killed and 61 others were injured. On Groundhog Day, Punxatawney Phil saw his shadow predicting six more weeks of winter. Thus far the groundhog has been correct. Our weather has been harsh, but nothing to the conditions in Boston. That Massachusetts city has been battered by 74 inches of snow in 30 days setting an all time record for that time span.

"Algiers" The Play-In 1942, St. Mary's HS senior class presented a play called "Algiers," which everyone in the audience thoroughly enjoyed. For those who never heard of Algiers, it was one of the most notorious countries in the world during World War II. Algiers was loaded with spies and espionage was continually being encountered. It was one of the last countries to be captured by the allies. (Photo/story by Joe Lotkowitz)
